THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

The following plank in the National Republican platform adopted at the convention held at Minneapolis, Minn., in 1892, on the silver question, is good enough for any true American to stand upon, it seems to us:

The American people, from tradition and interest, favor bimetalism, and the Republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money, with such restrictions and under such provisions, to be determined by legislation, as will secure a maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and the debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal. The interests of the producers of the country, its farmers and its workmen, demand that every dollar, paper or coin, issued by the government shall be as good as any other. We commend the wise and patriotic step already taken by our government to secure an international conference to adopt such measures as will insure a parity of value between gold and silver for use as money throughout the world.

To-day the voters of Henry county determine their choice between Johnson and Watson as candidate for congress. It is estimated that 4,000 votes will be polled and that neither will have a majority exceeding 200.

THE ILLINOIS legislature has declared a law valid which is causing consternation among bankers. The law provides that it shall be a criminal offense for the officers of a bank to receive deposits within the thirty days preceding a suspension or failure of the bank. No matter what the circumstances or what the cause of suspension, the law says a crime has been committed, for which the punishment shall be fine or imprisonment.

A NEW ORLEANS paper reports that while the South has gained 34 per cent in population during the last twenty years, the enrollment of its school attendance has increased 130 per cent. The value of southern school property in the same time has increased from $16,000,000 to $51,000,000. It is estimated that of the $320,000,000 expended for education in the south in the last eighteen years, one-fourth has been for colored pupils. Florida leads the south in its provision for education, having a higher ratio of enrollment and giving eighteen days a year more schooling than any other state in that section.

THE SUPREME court of Massachusetts has decided that a school teacher has no right to require a scholar to tell tales on a companion.

GENERAL FRANKER comes very near striking the keynote of the campaign for 1896 in a single sentence, when he says, "the great, paramount issue upon which the battles of both this year and next will be fought will be Cleveland's administration Hawaii, the bill of perjury and dishonor," sugar crookedness, selling out the treasury to English gold bugs, the destruction of reciprocity and a score of like counts."

SENATOR JOHN M. THURSTON, in a recent speech in Nebraska eloquently answered the question who is William McKinley, in these words: "A soldier of the republic, a boy volunteer, knighted by his country's commission for conspicuous gallantry on desperate fields. When Sheridan, summoned by the rising roar of doubtful battle, rode madly down Winchester and drew nigh to the shattered and retreating columns of his army, the first man to know was a young lieutenant, engaged in the heroic task of rallying and reforming the shattered ranks, ready for the coming of the water, whose presence and aid would west victory from defeat. That young lieutenant was a private in 1861, a major in 1866. The years that others gave to educational pursuit he gave to his country. His alma mater was the tented field."

THE Indianapolis News has the following to say concerning the race for the nomination for governor on the republican ticket: "The race for Governor is overshadowing all others at this time. The fifteen men who are seeking the nomination have not permitted personal feeling to come into the canvass up to this time. The impression prevails that no one will be able to judge as to the strength of each of these men until after the delegates have assembled here for the convention. Nearly every congressional district has its candidate, and will stand by him until it seems that there is no chance for his nomination. Charles T. Doney, of Anderson, has been securing pledges in various parts of the state, but the other candidates say his strength, outside his own district, is greatly overestimated. One hears a good deal of talk to the effect that John L. Griffiths, of this city, has a dormant strength throughout the state that will surprise some one when it begins to manifest itself. Charles F. Griffin, of Hammond, has been one of the most active men in the race, and his friends believe he is up toward the head of the list at this time. There is not one candidate that does not declare that the outlook is entirely satisfactory to him."

HONEYTOWN.

Owing to the showery weather Sunday evening Bro. Tene failed to preach here. The M. E. church will organize Sunday-school here next Sunday. David Ross and family, near Seymour, were visiting Mrs. Ross' relatives in this vicinity three days last week. John Hays has bought him a bicycle. Several of the young folks from this place attended Sunday-school at Pleasant Grove Sunday. They report a good school at that place. Mr. Brackemyre, our able and accomplished school teacher, started to Indiana University Monday. The school at this place closed last Friday. A sumptuous feast was spread and partaken of by a throng of joyful visitors. After dinner Mr. Brackemyre mustered his scholars and rendered a very interesting program.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

HAYDEN.

Jonah Cobbs, of Crothersville, is visiting her son, Jesse Cobbs. Misses Ella and Emma Ewan went to Indianapolis Tuesday. John Hand, of North Vernon, moved on his farm last week, south-west of this place. Mrs. Ike Everhart was called to Deputy on account of the illness of Mr. Everhart's mother. Will McKinnison and wife have moved in the Kendrick property on Six Mile. A son was born to Edgar Perry and wife March 17, 1896. The members of the M. E. church have built a walk from the railroad to the church.

Plenty of money to loan on farm property at 6 per cent. J. BALSLEY.

HOUSTON.

We were somewhat surprised at the sudden departure of Bro. VanHartling, as editor of the REPUBLICAN. He has gained the friendship and respect of all who have had dealings with him. We only hope to find the present managers as courteous and gentlemanly as the one just vacating the editor's chair. Mr. T. Simpkins is sick at the home of his mother. Miss Emma Smith is dangerously sick with lung trouble. People here are attending church at Christiansburg this week. They report an interesting meeting. T. V. Pruitt started Monday to attend school at State Normal. Walter and John Fleetwood have gone to Danville to school. O. A. Thompson, Elmer Brown, Bruce Fleetwood, J. B. Cross and others will attend the spring term of school at Surprise. Rev. Adamson, of Springfield, will preach at the Christian church next Sunday night and Sunday. Rev. Thomas Jones, of Seymour, will preach the memorial sermon at this place. W. L. Pruitt returned from Terre Haute last Saturday, where she has been visiting relatives for some time. Probably ere this is in print Miss Alice Paul, of this place, and Zibe McMahon, of Brownstown, will have been married and wife. They will make Brownstown their future home. Mr. McMahon for many years lived here. He is an industrious farmer. May success follow them in their new life.

Year Boy Won't Live a Month.

So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 34 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying, "Your boy won't live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for lung trouble. Trial Bottles Free at J. H. Andrews and Co's. Drug Store.

SPRAYTOWN.

Rev. T. D. Hall will preach next Sabbath morning at half past ten o'clock. Michael Huber and wife, of Seymour, were out visiting their old home and their children here. Will Long bought the late Ephraim White homestead, Consideration $900. Mrs. Dorothy Hank, of Freeport, is visiting relatives and friends for a few weeks. Our Easter services will be held next Sunday at 2 o'clock. Mr. Bradley and wife attended Sunday-school here Sunday and visited at Henry Kerns. Misses Gertrude Weekly, Gertrude Slater and Willie Gray attended the last day of school at Surprise Friday. They reported a pleasant time. Charles Bennett and wife visited the latter's brother, Hiram Taylor, Sunday.

Gulfiana's Vile Climate.

The climate of Gulfiana is not by any means agreeable. Georgetown is within six degrees of the equator, and the mercury generally hovers around 90 and 100 degrees. The land is also low and marshy in places, so that fevers are prevalent at all seasons of the year, and a white man cannot live there unless he takes extreme precaution to observe certain essential rules. Negroes, on the contrary, can live anywhere and break the health rules laid down for the white settlers. Yellow fever is an annual plague in Georgetown, but the negro population gives little thought to it, and it is uncommon to hear of one of their number taking it. The coolies, who compose about one-third the population, are more susceptible to the poor climate than the negroes, but are much harder than the whites. The coolies are a lighter and more slender race than the negroes, but they are industrious and moderately faithful workers, while the negroes are lazy and indolent. The real hard and difficult work in the fields that requires muscle is performed by the negroes, but the steady, continuous, light work is allotted to the coolies. The two races are naturally hostile, more so than the Europeans and the natives. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

MANY WOMEN SUFFER

FROM LACK OF INFORMATION.

Doctors Are Too Reserved. A Woman Should Be Dealt With Openly.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

Women are often allowed by their physicians to suffer much from lack of information and anxiety. Many medical men are valuable, but they do not investigate; they have faith in their doctor, and often wreck their lives through this unfortunate confidence.

In the treatment of female diseases men work from theory; and it is not to be expected that they can treat as intelligently those complaints from which they have never suffered, as a woman can who has made the organism and diseases of her sex a life study.

Women afflicted with female diseases are wise in communicating promptly with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Their distressed condition is due to womb trouble, and their symptoms tell the story.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one remedy that removes the cause, and restores health, courage, and happiness. The druggists sell more of it than all other female medicines. Why?

The following short letter speaks for itself. Mrs. Parker is a very young wife; only twenty-one years old. She was suffering untold misery when she wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. Can evidence be stronger than this?

"I deem it my duty to announce the fact to all my fellow-sufferers of all female complaints that your Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me of all the pains and suffering I was enduring when I wrote you last May. I followed your advice to the letter, and the result is wonderful." —MRS. CHAS. PARKER, Little Falls, Minn. Any druggist has it.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

DANVERS, Vt., April 1.—The boiler in a sawmill belonging to J. C. Connolly, eight miles south of here, exploded yesterday instantly killing G. W. Pelletier, fatally injuring Tom Soull, seriously injuring Bob Banks and his 10-year-old boy and scalding John McCarty.

A Lesson in French.

"While I was in Paris," says a woman whose recent trip abroad was interrupted by family illness, "I took one lesson from a famous French teacher. I paid a large price for it and had to rush home before a second was due, but I consider that my money was well invested, for she (it was a woman) impressed one important linguistic fact upon my mind. This was that the French language has no sound of 'p' as in 'apple.' Nine-tenths of the Americans who pretend to speak French say 'la mort,' 'la terre,' 'la chair,' and the other, as broad as a Bostonese says 'can't' and 'shant.' It is absolutely wrong. The sound is as in 'mat,' and that those words; the tongue is placed quite differently. The observance of this one distinction more than almost any other gives the real Parisian (and that we all want to be) which is really only French, pure and simple. I consider that my fortnight in France was not wasted, though I brought home only a sound." —New York Times.

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVE
cures nervous prostration. Not miraculously, but scientifically, by first removing the germs of disease, and then supplying healthy nerve food, increasing the appetite, helping digestion and strengthening the entire system. Desperate cases require prolonged treatment as shown by that of Mrs. M. B. Reed, of Delta, Iowa, who writes: "As the result of a lightning stroke, the physicians said I had a light stroke of paralysis, my limbs would all draw up. I would have throbbings in my chest that seemed unbearable. For three months I could not sleep and for three weeks did not close my eyes. I prayed for sleep, and felt that it would not come. I would be dead or insane. I took Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve. The second night I slept two hours and from that time on my health improved; slowly at first, but steadily and surely. I took in all 40 bottles, and I cannot express how grateful I am, for I am now perfectly well, and have taken no medicine for over four months." Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by druggists on guarantee that first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on heart and nerves free. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

A printer in making up news in the form, getting the page ready to print took a handful of type from the tail end of a fire item and by mistake put it against the first part of a funeral notice. In the paper it read like this: "The pall bearers lowered the body into the grave and as it was consigned to the flames there were few regrets, for the old wreck had been an eyesore to the town for years. Of course there was individual loss, but that was covered by insurance." The widow thinks the editor wrote the obituary that way because the lamented partner of her joys and sorrows owed him five years subscription.—Ex.

All the facts were brought up, especially those relating to the area of the county as to whether Jackson county came under the statute which is operative in the counties of 500 square miles or more. The case was fully discussed and Judge New took the case under advisement, promising to announce the result of his decision some time next week. The result will be awaited with interest. RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

O. H. Battman, of the Bee Line, was a visitor in the city to-day.

J. M. Sample, superintendent of the Air Line, was in the city this morning.

Trainmaster J. S. Mills came home last evening from Washington.

Enos Humphrey, traveling engineer, of the B. & O., was in the city last night.

The B. & O. shops at Washington reopened Monday and the employees work six hours a day.

Six conductors of the L. E. & St. L. Line, were April fooled by getting their walking papers this morning. No cause assigned.

U. C. Sappington, of Louisville, was yesterday appointed agent of the J. M. & I. road at this place to succeed the late Sherman Davis, and he entered on his duty to-day.

The Bicycle Spin.

Yesterday afternoon several of our bicycle boys started from Cox's drug or for a run to Cox's land by way of Ball's Ford returning by way of the New Ford back to Seymour. The eyeometer registered the distance as 11 1/2 miles. Remarkably good time was made considering the messy condition of the roads, and that this is the first run of the season.

The best time, 34 1/2 minutes, was made on one of the new Timms' wheel with rear handle bars. The rear handle bar is something new in bicycles and is the invention of Mr. Timms, of the bicycle factory here. During the run the new wheel made it gains on the rough roads and on the up hill grades. This is a victory for another Seymour industry.

Riding made the second time, 40 minutes. This is a good start. Way not have a Seymour bicycle club with a regular run, say once a week?

BUSINESS NOTES.

D. M. Forman, of Aurora, was a business visitor in the city to-day.

George Wettig left to-day for St. Louis in the interest of the Home Furniture Factory.

Valentine Ault, of Seymour, through his attorney, W. R. England, has had his pension increased from $16 to $30 a month.

J. M. Miller sold his interest in the store to Theodore Hoover, of Versailles, who will move his family and goods here at once.

Will Cordes, having gone to Columbus to assist in the hardware store of Cordes and Vonfange, moved his wife there last evening accompanied by her niece, Miss Luella Cordes.

James H. Crane, of Cranetown, came up to the city last evening and brought a fine lot of apples, which he shipped to Indianapolis. Mr. Crane made the Republican a social and business call.

Frank Matson, for some years connected with the Columbus Republican, but since last summer at Indianapolis, where he is employed in newspaper advertising, was in the city yesterday and made the Republican office a special call.

He has been on the sick list for some few days. Mr. Moore from Brown county has rented the E. L. Davis property here and will sell goods in our town. May he prosper. Uncle Sam Maharon is having his dwelling painted. Wm. Edwards and others went to Washington county last week. We want to say to our Republican friends be sure you are right and then pull together.

OKLAHOMA.

The gentle showers of spring are heard and appreciated by all. Ulie Lee is clerking in Brookline's store at Tunnelton. Homer Foster and wife, of Pee Ridge, visited in Oklahoma Sunday. Miss Hannah Darr is very low with consumption. Miss Mary Henderson, who has been staying at Tunnelton for some time, returned home Saturday. Miss S. Jane and Maggie Foster visited Mrs. Betsy Darr Sunday afternoon. Miss Maggie Richards visited on Pee Ridge last Wednesday. Anderson Paris and family visited at Ourt Foster's Sunday. Thornton Wray, of Leesville, was seen in our midst Sunday evening and Monday morning. He must have been reined in. Several of the choir met at Mrs. Jane Lee's Sunday afternoon to practice songs for Sunday-school. Sunday-school and church was tolerably well attended last Sunday, but we hope that as the weather is getting nice that our crowd will increase until all who are near will be present. Misses Laura Phillips and Cora Hughes are attending a spring term of school at Medora.

Special SKYMOOR REPUBLICAN.

COLUMBUS, IND., March 31, 1896.—Homer Edwards, who has been employed in the post office here for several months, was arrested to day and taken to Indianapolis this evening by Federal authorities. For some time Postmaster Rash has been trying to locate the responsibility for missing letters. Registered letters have frequently disappeared. A deputy registered letter addressed to Mrs. Jennie Lautensfield, Waymansville, and containing $3.50, was put on the mail train at Seymour this morning by Postoffice Inspector Vickery. This letter came into the office about 10 o'clock and soon after that Edwards took it to one side tore it open and put the money in his pocket. As he was under suspicion his movements were carefully watched. As this evidence was conclusive he was at once placed in custody and made a United States prisoner.

On the 7th day of last June Chas. Riddell, one of the mail carriers of the Columbus office, was arrested for robbing the mails and was afterwards tried in the Federal court at Indianapolis and sentenced to ninety days in prison.

Are You Ever Annoyed

by a buzzing or roaring sound in your head? Have you difficulty in hearing distinctly? Are you troubled with a continual dropping of mucus, irritating the throat and causing you to cough? Is your breath unpleasantly affected and accompanied with bad taste? Is your hearing less acute? If so, you have catarrh and should at once procure a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm, the best known remedy. The Balm will give instant relief.

TAMPICO.

The rain that came Sunday did not mend the roads, but will cause the wheat and grass to grow rapidly. Vance Tidwell and wife Sunday here. Albert Daneke and wife visited relatives here Sunday. Elder Hartley, of Scottsburg, preached to the people here Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. He is very old and feeble, but he can still fight the christian fight. Nettie Daniels opened a subscription school here last Monday. Mrs. Ella Acker and Chas. Rosenmeyer spent Sunday with friends here. The Keach band played at an entertainment at Dailey-town, last Friday evening. Miss Edie Thompson, Maud Tallock, Lou Daniels and Daisy Morgan attended the closing exercises of District No. 5 in Washington township last Friday. Louis Bicker and wife are rejoicing over a brand new dishwasher that came last Friday. Miss Beesie Sturgeon went to Brownstown Sunday. Harry Sholtz and family, of Springfield, Ohio, are visiting here this week. The creamery is doing well. The price of milk will go up soon. The commencement will be held in the Christian church Saturday evening at 7:30 p. m.

If strength is what you want, you should study what causes your weakness. It is practically lack of food. But you eat three meals a day, and all you can eat at a time. Yes, but do you digest it? Food undigested, is not food. It is not nourishment. To digest your food take Shaker Digestive Cordial at meals. After a while you will digest your food without it. Then you will get well, and strong and healthy. Shaker Digestive Cordial cures indigestion and all its symptoms, such as nausea, headache, eructations, pain in the stomach, giddiness, loss of appetite, etc. It makes your food nourish you, and make you strong and fat and hearty. Druggists sell it. Trial bottle 10 cents.

To the Public.

I would respectfully request all persons subject to assessment to have the matter in mind in order that there may be no delay when called upon by myself or deputy. Agreeable to the instructions of the county assessor, blanks will NOT be left at the time of the assessor's call. The law, concerning the assessment of all property, is plain and I shall endeavor to adhere strictly to the letter of the law, a copy of which may be seen by any one so desiring at my office in the Miller building, 202 South Walnut street, opposite J. H. Hodapp's grain market.

PLEASANT VALLEY.

Health in this community is improving. Sabbath school was reorganized last Sunday with the following officers: Superintendent, Miss Miesie Hay; assistant, John Bultman; secretary, Wm. Siddall; assistant, Miss Lois Parker; Treasurer, William Richards; librarians Miesie Myrtle Garris and Lillie Goss; organist, Emma Garris with Carl Holtz as assistant. Miss Ruby Robertson and little sister, Mary, were the guests of their grand parents over Saturday night. Ralph Erwin called on his best girl down on Creek street Sunday evening. Miss Dilla Weddle, one of Medora's charming ladies is visiting her sister at this place and calling on her many friends. Miesie Etta and Emma Stroud, of Seymour, visited their uncle Charles Anderson, last week. Charles Anderson and son, Willie, delivered some lumber at Seymour for James Applewhite last week. Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, no hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

CARMILL.

Our prospect for fruit of all kinds is still good. We had lots of rain lately, and a regular hail and wind storm Sunday evening, which damaged fencing, etc. We extend a hearty welcome to the new publishers of the REPUBLICAN, let every republican do his duty and they may confidently expect even a better paper in the future than has been given us in the past. Marion Wheeler went to Hamilton county last week on business. His son Elmer, who has been working there, accompanied him home to remain for the summer. Isaac White, of Hamilton county, has been circulating among old friends here for the last few days. Elison Ross, the 10-year old step-son of Stocker Wheeler, fell from a horse Sunday evening and broke his arm. We were misinformed as to Frank Reedy's returning home during vacation. He has decided to remain and run one of I. S. Wheeler's huckster wagons. R. M. Smith visited his father near Brownsville, Sunday. Wendell Poor was nominated for the office of member of the board of supervisors from his township. His township is democratic, but they say Wen. is making 'em hustle.

An Affidavit.

This is to certify that on May 11th, I walked to Melick's drug store on a pair of crutches and bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm for inflammatory rheumatism which had crippled me up. After using three bottles I am completely cured. I can cheerfully recommend it.—Charles H. Wetzel, Salsbury, Pa. Sworn and subscribed to before me on August 10, 1894.—Walter Shipman, J. P. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by C. W. Millhouse, The Druggist.

FREETOWN.

Health is improving in this vicinity. We regret very much having to part with our old friend, J. O. VanHaringen, but with the new proprietors success. The Freetown brass band has purchased new drums of the finest make and tried them Monday night for the first time. The boys are improving wonderfully. Rev. Jacob White delivered an able discourse at Hoand-hollow school house last Sunday evening. He will preach at same place April 12, at 3 p. m. The Kurtz correspondence in the Banner says the Freetown G. A. R. Post had better wait till winter breaks before they advertise for the Fourth of July celebration. We have tried waiting for several years and Kurtz or some other place, or some other rate putting farmers are going to be very late putting in their oats crops. N. & H.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Morphine Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stepping stone narcotics?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. SAMUEL PITCHER. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children will be kept well, and that you will have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

STEVENSON'S MODESTY.

The Novelist's Opinion of Himself as Expressed in His Letters.

There is one passage in Louis Stevenson's correspondence which it would have been a thousand pities to miss. So much nonsense has been written about Stevenson's work, he was made the victim while he lived of such an extravagant system of puffing, that those who did not know him were almost inevitably forced to associate him with his flatterers and to believe that he must see himself with their eyes. It is clear that he did not. His most exacting critic can hardly have judged him more sternly than he judged himself.

"For the nonce my skill deserves me, such as it is, or was. It was a very little dose of inspiration, and a pretty little trick of style, long lost, improved by the most heroic industry. So far I have managed to please the journalists. But I am a fictitious article, and have long known it. I am read by journalists, by my fellow novelists, and by boys. With these, in fact, it is explicit my vogue. Good thing anyway, for it seems to have sold the edition. * * * I do not think it is possible to have fewer illusions than I. I sometimes wish I had more. They are amusing. But I cannot take myself seriously as an artist. The limitations are so obvious."

It is not often one finds a popular author writing in such a strain—an author, too, whom there seemed a general conspiracy among the reviewers to spoil. What a contrast it is to the following extract from the touching epilogue added to these letters by his editor and friend:

"The fragment on which he wrought during the last month of his life gives to my mind, as it did to his own, for the first time the full measure of his powers, and if in the literature of romance there is to be found more masterly, of more piercing human insight or more concentrated imaginative vision and beauty, I do not know it."

—Macmillan's Magazine.

A CLEVER SCHEME.

But the Boss Had Been Too Long In Business To Be Fooled.

One day in a Sixth avenue chophouse a well dressed young man sitting at a table not far from me finished his lunch and asked for his check, but as it was brought to him he suddenly rose up and hurried to the cashier's desk, which was near the door, and said:

"Sir, I have dropped $50 out of my pocket in this place! Let no one go out until I make a search!"

"Where's your check?" he was asked.

"Here it is. I had two twenties and a $10 bill."

"Will you pay this check of $1.50?" "I can't till I find my roll."

"Thomas, call in an officer!"

"But what for?" asked the victim.

"To arrest you if you don't pay! That's an old game—too ancient to work here."

"But I have dropped $50!"

"Guff! Will you pay?"

"I'll pay if I can find my money. I know I had it when I came in here."

"Call the copper, Tom!"

Two minutes later an officer bustled in to see what was wanted. The cashier was telling him that he had a deadbeat to be cared for when a woman rose up to leave, and the young man's $50 was found on the floor, where it had been covered by her skirts.

"Didn't I tell you so!" he exclaimed as he returned to the cashier to pay the check. "Nice sort of man, you are! I'll sue you for damages before I'm through with this!"

The cashier looked tired, but made no reply. When the indignant young man had departed, I said:

"Then he wasn't a beat, after all?"

"The slickest kind," he replied.

"But he lost his money, and it was found."

"Don't you believe it! The woman was his pal and gave it up only when she saw that he would be arrested. Your Uncle Hiram has been right here for 25 years and knows the ropes!"

Lord Ellenborough's Wig.

Lady Ellenborough, a renowned beauty, on one occasion accompanied the judge on circuit, on the distinct understanding that she should not incur the carriage with bandboxes—his abhorrence. During the first day's journey Lord Ellenborough, stretching his legs, chanced to strike his foot against something under the seat. It was a bandbox. Down went the window and out it flew. The coachman, thinking the box had fallen out, at once pulled up, but his master furiously roared out the order to "drive on." On reaching the next assize town, Lord Ellenborough proceeded to equip himself for the bench. "Now," said he, "where is my wig?" "My lord," replied the attendant, "it was thrown out of the carriage window."

—Tremple Bar.

An Acquired Habit.

"You heard Mrs. De Voe recite 'The Lost Child' last night, didn't you?" "Of course."

"Notice the queer way in which she worked her chin?"

"Certainly; but you know the reason of that?"

"Double hinge in her jaws?"

"Oh, no! She worked in a chewing gum factory for five years before her marriage and had to sample every lot turned out."—Detroit Free Press.

ELECTRICAL POWER.

Now Shall We Educate Our Sons For the Electrical Profession?

We come back now to the original question, and the only answer that can be given is, "Give the boy the broadest education that his time and abilities will permit." My own belief is that there is no better early preparation for a professional career of any kind than that given in the public schools of our larger cities.

Having completed the public school course, I would have him take the usual academic course involved in preparation for our larger colleges, giving more attention to mathematics and less to classics, but, if there be time, a great deal of attention to both. The object of this period of a young man's education is decidedly more the training of the mind than instruction, and for that reason it matters less what the boy learns than the habits of thought which are inculcated at this time.

In the study of quantitative chemical analysis the student is most easily introduced into the methods of exact science. In it he is familiarized at the outset with instruments of precision, with the niceties of manipulation which characterize all scientific work, and he learns to handle the atom and the molecule which are the ultimate particles of matter as the mathematician does imaginary quantities and symbols. To the analytical chemist these atoms and molecules are as living entities as the trees and the hills, and they are endowed with individual characteristics more definite and more easily recognizable than are the members of his own family. The study of chemistry in its definite proportions is the easiest and surest road to a rational understanding of the physical qualities of matter upon which the structural engineer depends for the success of his creations.

Above all should the candidate for electrical engineering honors be instructed in the higher physics, for it is the mechanism of the ether with which the electrician has chiefly to deal, just as it is with the various gears that the mechanician is concerned.—Electric Power.

NO GOT A OIL; NO GOT A WICK.

Railroad Travel In China Seems to Have Its Drawbacks.

Having engaged a coupe in the train to Shang-I-Yuen, the only railway in all China, I found on entering the first class vestibule car that, like the rest of the train, it was horribly dirty.

I asked for an explanation of the matter, and for answer was conducted to another part of the train which appeared a little cleaner, but still the coupe was very dirty and only had the advantage of having a table, which the first one had not, it having been broken up by some former occupant.

After the train began to move a most vile smell came from the adjoining compartment. On asking why such a state of things was permitted I was told that Chinese mandarins were a dirty people and did not understand any better standard of cleanliness.

Two young Cantonese are in the same carriage with me, and I ask them why the railway is so badly managed and the cars so dirty. They inform me that they are related to one of the directors, and that no doubt the dirt arose from the number of strangers who had traveled lately by the line, who do not understand western sanitary arrangements—in fact, never were in a train before.

It has become quite dark, and we are not provided with a light. I inquire the reason.

"The wicks are finish; no got a more no got a oil; not a wick," is the reply.

And so we sat in darkness till the end of our journey, when we steam into Shang-I-Yuen, a name which means in English "City of Hills and Sea Pass," the famous frontier pass situated near the maritime end of China's great wall.—Paris Herald.

An Expert Opinion.

An old watchman, who used to keep guard in the department of justice, from long association with the legal lights in the building believed he had imbibed a fair share of learning in the law, and so when one night a telegram addressed to the attorney general came after hours he had no hesitancy in opening it and reading its message. It asked the question, "Is a man to be held responsible for a crime committed while under the influence of liquor?" The watchman pondered over this message for some time, and, as he knew what the influence of liquor was, he sent the laconic answer: "No indeed. (Signed) John Jones, in charge of department of justice."

Of course there was an immediate attack on the attorney general for such a decision, and the matter came to the ears of the department. An investigation was made and the watchman suspended for three months. That did not worry him, however. With effrontery that simply dumfounded the clerks, he came to the building every pay day during that time of suspension and drew his salary.—Kate Field's Washington.

A Queer Postoffice.

One of the strangest postoffices in the world is away down at Terra do Fuego, in the toe end of the big shoe which is like the map of South America looks like. The "office" is a big barrel, and it is fastened to a rock overlooking the straits of Magellan. Every ship that rounds Cape Horn stops at this odd postoffice. A boat puts out to the shore with letters to be left, and the sailor who takes them looks over those already in the barrel, taking out and bringing away with him any that his ship can forward to their destination. Then he fastens the cover on the barrel with his hook and staple, and the queer odd postoffice that needs no postmaster or mail-bags is left to itself until the next ship comes by.—New York Times.

During the winter of 1893, F. M. Martin, of Long Beach, West Va., contracted a severe cold which left him with a cough. In speaking of how he cured it he says: "I used several kinds of cough syrup but found no relief until I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which relieved me almost instantly, and in a short time brought about a complete cure." When troubled with a cough or cold use this remedy and you will not find it necessary to try several kinds before you get relief. It has been in the market for over twenty years and constantly grows in favor and popularity. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by O. W. Millhous, The Druggist.

VENICE A DELUSION.

An Englishman Finds Its Canals and Distances Not at All Entrancing.

An Englishman who has seen Venice but to be disillusionized writes of his impressions to The Westminster Budget as follows: "Here is a description of what these canals are, taken from my diary, and it is literally truthful, which the poets and the painters never are. On either side staggers a crowd of decayed buildings; from the roof downward they are a mass of squalid ruin; broken balconies cling to the stained and discolored walls, great scabs of plaster have fallen from their fronts as if a leprosy had eaten into them; for a foot above the water the walls are black with slime, the broken windows are stuffed with rags or paper, the shattered steps lead up to doors that swing by one hinge; the steps themselves are slippery with a greasy scum; to the edge of the lower stair there is a fringe of foul green weed—it swings slowly in the crawling water; the iron grilles, once so beautiful, are eaten by bitter salt rust, the shutters hang at all angles, flapping and creaking in the wind; in the crazy balconies there is a lumber of broken flowerpots with dead flowers in them, and through all these reeking alleys the greenish gray water slowly pulses and oozes, covered with straw, eggshells, cabbage stalks and nameless refuse. Over all this brood a hundred filthy and obscene smells, each canal contributing a particularly putrid stench of its own. No longer does Venice sit in state; hour by hour and stone by stone she is sinking into her dishonored grave.

"Night in Venice and music on the canal—that surely would have its old charm. I had pictured the soft air, pulsing with sweet voices, and over all a sky 'thick inlaid with patines of bright gold.' Well, every night about 8 the singing certainly began, guitars tinkled, and now and then one heard a fairly good tenor voice, but as a rule the men's voices were harsh and worn, and the women's indescribably shrill, and the songs they sang were Verdi and Bellini at their worst—'Ah, Che la Morte,' and its companion absurdities. And when once they began they kept on; no sooner had one boatload of singers exhausted its repertory than another took up its place and repeated the same songs with the same quaverings and tinklings."

Why He Gave the Good Cigar Away.

"Will you have a cigar?" asked one man of another, carefully selecting one of three which he drew from his waistcoat pocket. He handed this one to his friend. The other man smiled and said: "I suppose this is the kind you buy to give away."

"You might think so, but it isn't," rejoined the one who had given the cigar. "As a matter of fact, the one I gave you is much the best of the lot. I always give away the cigars of that brand which I receive. It's not because they are bad, but because they are good. This is how it is: For several years I have been buying my cigars of a dealer in Nassau street. I always get a kind which costs $10 a hundred. I am not overfond of the brand, but it is the best that I can get for the money, and I feel that I cannot afford to pay more for my cigars.

"For some time the dealer has been very anxious to get me to smoke a cigar that costs $16 a hundred. He assures me that the difference between it and the one I get is far greater than the prices would indicate. Some of my friends also smoke this expensive cigar, and they assure me it really is exceptionally good. From time to time the dealer gives me one of the 16 cent kind to smoke, assuring me that if I will only try it I will buy no other. The truth is, I fear he is right, so I have resolutely resisted the temptation to smoke the gift cigars. Instead, I hand them to some friend. That is one of them. Do you believe now that I gave you the worst?"

The friend saw no further reason for doubting that the cigar which he had received was the best of the lot.—New York Tribune.

The March of the Bicycle.

The bicycle has come, and, although the predominance of the horse in sport is not destroyed, it is no longer undisputed. Not like that other, that with such sulphurous manifestations tumbled the knight from his steed, this modern machine, in quiet and orderly manner as becomes the present, is tumbling his modern counterpart from hunter and from hack. Gradually it has been growing in favor, and now it is bearing all before it. There is no dignity too great to be borne by the nimble wheel, and equestrian has been sacrificed for its sake. Every one rides, and it is singular that the most bigoted horseman often falls the most abject victim and is found practicing upon the smoothly running innovation—sometimes, it is true, on the sly. A writer says in speaking of the "retreat" of the power holding classes: "The effect produced on certain individuals is such that, instead of sitting with the class to which by tradition and individual interest they undoubtedly belong, they take their place in the ranks of the opponents."—Scribner's.

Wrong Diagnosis.

"What you need is exercise," said Dr. Morris, after an examination of Mrs. Bellefield, who had called him up by telephone.

"Doctor," replied the good woman, "being an unmarried man, you do not know that bargain days and remnant sales have been going on in the dry goods stores for about a month."

"Oh—er, in that case, what you need is perfect rest. I think I shall have to order you to the Bermuda for six or eight weeks."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Relief From Eczema.

"Don't you ever get tired of doing nothing?" asked one.

"Oh, yes," replied the other languidly.

"Well, what do you do then?"

"Take a rest."—Philadelphia Call.

Where Disease Is Bred.

When a sewer is clogged or choked up the accumulations poison the atmosphere in its vicinity and bring about the conditions that breed disease. We all know that in time of pestilence every precaution is taken, not only to keep the sewers free and open, but even to remove all decaying matter from the community. The danger of infection is thus minimized. How few of us who pay taxes for the maintenance of sanitary bureaus for the public health think of an equal requirement for our individual welfare. The alimentary canal is the great sewer of the human system. When that is clogged up conditions are generated which invite fevers and such diseases as our nature inclines to. Constipation is a clogging of the natural drains, and nearly everything we suffer from follows this condition. It will not do merely to clear the drains from time to time. We must repair and improve the working power of the machinery whose function it is to perform this task. Smith's Bile Beans differ from pills in that they are more than a mere cathartic. They not only stimulate sluggish bowels and clear the system of all disease breeding matter, but they remedy the evil complained of; they restore power and freedom of operation to the secreting organs, and they tone up and strengthen the entire system. They are easy and soothing in action. Try them. 25 cts. a bottle, 50 cts. a bottle, $1.00. For sale by druggists and medicine dealers throughout the country, or by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Ask for the "Small Size" (green wrapper or cartoon).
